

Bouquets for the Star.

DONALD Leech, star of "Poison Pen" and many other local amateur shows in the past, suffers much from the gifts of certain of his friends and admirers.

---

Last year, before appearing in "No, No, Nanette," he lost (and found again) a set of false teeth. So, after the first performance, his friends sent him up another set on a piece of string.

---

This year, during the "Poison Pen" show, he lost his motor car. So his friends banded together and sent him a motor tyre and an old hooter towards a new one.
